OUT OF TOWN NOTES.

LAKE PROVIDENCE.

Rev. S. F. Swift, pastor Providence Baptist Church, filled his pulpit Sunday morning and preached a most wonderful sermon. His subject was "I am a Good Shepherd." Sunday school was opened at 9:30 o'clock by Assistant Superintendent Bro. Robert Davis. The attendance and collection were good. The young people of Providence Sunday School entertained their friends and parents nicely at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon with a very nice Easter exercise conducted by Miss Hattie Goetz, Bro. R. B. Edmondson, lectured to the school. His subject was "The Resurrection of Christ," after which Miss Martha E. Maxwell and Wilhelmina Slaughter raised a small collection for the benefit of the Sunday school. Afterwards Brother Griffin Owens, the superintendent, dismissed with prayer. Rev. E. T. Britton of Nashville preached Sunday night at the absence of our pastor. His text was "Death in the Pot." Those on the sick list this week are still improving.

BRIERSVILLE.

Miss Josephine Lewis and Charlie B. Lewis were the guests of their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lewis, and a three course menu was served. Miss Josephine Lewis spent Saturday and Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Will Lewis. One of our old friends is spending a few weeks in St. Louis. Well, who is it? It is Mrs. Cane Walton of this place. There she is spending a few weeks with her sons, Messrs. Charles and Daley Walton. We are expecting her in a few days. Mr. William Pettis was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Paralee Pettis, last Wednesday, and also Master Price Perry. Mr. Jim Phillips was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norrel Vinson Sunday, also Mr. Edd Weakley and a lovely dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams were the guests of Mr. Charlie Lewis Wednesday and Thursday night. A two course menu was served.

UNION CITY.

The Easter exercise at Brown's Chapel A. M. E. Church was simple yet impressively carried out Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program under the direction of the Sunday school superintendent was replete in every respect. In spite of the inclement weather the church was filled almost to its utmost capacity. The pastor, Rev. W. A. Smith, delivered a cogent address and closed the service with a strong appeal in behalf of "missions." On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Zou C. M. E. Church was the scene of a well-planned Easter exercise. Appearances showed that the superintendent and teachers had exerted every effort to make the occasion was it was an enjoyable one. The lengthy and impressive program attested to the efficiency of the participants. The musical numbers rendered by the choir were especially noteworthy. Mrs. Albert Henderson is seriously ill at her home on East Wadell street. Mrs. Lou Anna Carter returned Thursday from Mason City, Iowa, where she had made her home for two years. We are glad to welcome her home again. Miss Robbie Muse spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Brumman on Wadell street. Mrs. Janie Alexander of Fulton is the house-guest of Mrs. B. L. Clark on South Eury street. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Wells spent Sunday in Brownsville. Mrs. Wells returned at night, but Mrs. Wells remains for several days with home folks. Mr. Ira J. Valentine of Cairo spent Sunday in the city. Mr. Lynch Stockdale is seriously ill at the home of his mother on Clover street. Mrs. Marshall Mosley is convalescing. Mrs. Annie Lee Owens left Sunday night for Creighton, Pa., where she joins her husband to make that place their future home. Mrs. McCall of Terrell spent several days in the city as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Percy Brannon, Todd street. Miss Cora Wallace of Rives passed through the city Saturday en route to Hickman. Mrs. Lou Anna Brumford is slowly convalescing. Mr. James Meels leaves in a few days for St. Louis. The many friends regret to hear of the death of Miss Clara Jones, who died in Hickman Thursday, April 12th. Miss Jones was formerly of this place and was a prominent figure in society. She was a favorite among the younger set and her death is deeply deplored by all who knew her. Mrs. Ida Watson and Mrs. Marie Weddington attended the closing exercises of the public school at Rives Friday night. Mr. Beecher Harris of Martin spent a few hours in the city.

CITY FRIDAY. Rev. R. L. Dent of Wood Mills was a pleasant visitor in our city Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Lizzie Bell, Mrs. Rebecca Flowers and Misses Lorraine Sisco and Irene Sherrod of Rives shopped in the city Saturday. On Sunday morning, April 8th, at Brown's Chapel A. M. E. Church, Rev. Samuel R. Skelton, the great evangelist, fired the opening gun in the evangelistic effort of the said church. It sounded the keynote for a successful service. The wholesome admonitions given by him evidently got straight home to the hearts of those who hear them. He keeps up with increasing power and effectiveness; a plain, simple, yet forceful presentation of gospel truths. Rev. Skelton is one of the ablest evangelists in the field. He is persuasive and wonderfully convincing in presenting the message of everlasting life. He appeals to reason and not to the emotions of his hearers. He is not a sensationalist. In his sermons Jesus Christ is exalted and faith in him as the truth, the way and the life are pointed out as the important things and living Christ is far better than talking it. We are hoping that much good may be accomplished. Mrs. Nannie Ridley was the hostess of the Bon Ton Club at her country home, "Sunny Heights," Friday afternoon, April 6th. The meeting opened with prayer and song after which the election of officers was held and resulted as follows: Mrs. Alberta Patton, president; Mrs. B. L. Clark, vice president; Mrs. Ollie Powers, treasurer; Mrs. Viola Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Nannie Ridley, assistant secretary. After an hour spent very pleasantly the hostess served a delicious two course menu. The meeting adjourned to meet with Miss Mary Richardson on Gibbs street Friday, April 13th. After several days' illness Mr. John Ross is at his post of duty. We are glad to report that Prof. T. S. Davenport is slowly improving.

SISTER MOORE.

On April 15th, 1916, this dear sister of God entered into rest. In loving memory of her life and service Sunday, April 15th, the first anniversary of her home-going has been set apart for Memorial Day. It is requested that in all the churches pastors preach on the subject of "Family Religion," emphasizing the need of daily Bible study in the home and the sustaining of the family altar. During Sister Moore's lifetime the home support and continuance of the cause when she had to lay it down was often in her mind. At these services an offering for the support of the Fireside Schools will be taken, as an expression of love and appreciation for the one who gave herself so unreservedly for the uplift of the people. These offerings will go into the Memorial Fund that is being raised to insure the permanent support of the cause founded by Sister Joanna P. Moore and to which she gave her life.

Not only in Nashville are these Memorial Services being held. From many sections of the country we are receiving letters, telling us of the plans of the people to honor the memory of this departed saint, who "being dead yet speaketh," and already offerings have come in to sustain what has been so well begun. Residents of Nashville have greater privileges than those in other places. As is well known, Sister Moore requested that she be laid to rest among the colored people that they might be free to visit her grave at any time. So in beautiful Greenwood Cemetery all that is mortal of Sister Moore was placed. A stone has been erected to mark the spot and on this anniversary day, April 15th, friends are given an invitation to visit the grave during the afternoon. Surely all hearts will desire to do honor to the one who was a prophet in our midst, and who, like her Master, went about doing good.

RAILROAD SITUATION IS NOW LARGELY UP TO CONGRESS

Must Share Responsibility in Future Development.

ROBERT S. LOVETT'S VIEWS

"Unification of Regulation Is Essential." A Complete, Harmonious, Consistent and Related System Needed—Federal Incorporation of Railroads by General Law Favored.

Washington, March 26.—Responsibility for the railway development of the country, for providing necessary transportation facilities to care for the growing business and population of the country, now rests largely with congress and not entirely with the railroad managers. This was the statement of Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific system, to the Newlands Joint congressional committee when that body resumed its inquiry into the subject of railroad regulation this week.

In making this statement of the changed conditions of the railroad situation Judge Lovett undoubtedly had in mind the decision of the supreme court on the Adamson law, handed down last week, which establishes the right of the federal government to fix railroad wages and to prevent strikes. This decision is regarded by railroad men and lawyers as marking an epoch in the development of transportation in the United States.

"We have our share of responsibility," said Judge Lovett, "but it rests primarily on congress. When the government regulates the rates and the financial administration of the railroads, the borrowing of money and the issuance of securities it relieves the railroad officers of the responsibility of providing and developing transportation systems, except within the limits of the revenue that can be realized from such rates and under such restrictions."

"For a country such as ours, for a people situated as we are, to blunder along with a series of unrelated, inconsistent, conflicting statutes enacted by different states without relation to each other, instead of providing a complete and carefully studied and prepared system of regulation for a business that is so vital to the life of the nation, is worse than folly."

He summed up the present problems and difficulties of the railroads as follows:

First.—The multiplicity of regulations by the several states with respect to the issue of securities, involving delays and conflicting state policies generally dangerous and possibly disastrous.

Second.—The state regulation of rates in such a manner as to unduly reduce revenues, to discriminate in favor of localities and shippers within its own borders as against localities and shippers in other states and to disturb and disarrange the structure of interstate rates.

Third.—The inability of the Interstate Commerce Commission, whoever the commissioners may be, to perform the vast duties devolving upon it under existing laws, resulting in delay, confusion and compelling the commissioners to accept the conclusions of their employees as final in deciding matters of great importance to the commercial and railroad interests of the country.

Fourth.—The practical legality that has been accorded conspiracies to tie up and suspend the operation of the railroads of the country by strikes and violence and the absence of any law to compel the settlement of such disputes by arbitration or other judicial means, as all other issues between citizens in civilized states are to be settled.

Fifth.—The phenomenal increase in the taxation of railroads in recent years.

Sixth.—The cumulative effect of these conditions upon the investing public, to which railroad companies must look for the capital necessary to continue development.

"We believe that the unification of regulation is essential," said Judge Lovett, "and that with the rapid increase of state commissions in recent years congress will in time be compelled to exercise its power in the premises. To unify regulation there should be a complete, harmonious, consistent and related system. We believe the best, if not the only practical plan, is the federal incorporation of railroads by general law, which will make incorporation thereafter compulsory, thus imposing on all railroad companies throughout the United States the same corporate powers and restrictions with respect to their financial operations and the same duties and obligations to the public and the government, so that every investor will know precisely what every railroad corporation may and may not lawfully do."

Judge Lovett contended that the solution of these problems and difficulties rested with congress. He told the committee that under the constitution the authority of the federal government is paramount; that congress has the power to legislate for a centralized control of railroads under federal charters and that it only remains for that body to exercise that power.

THE COLORED MAN AND HIS PART IN WAR.

Rev. J. P. Robinson, D. D.

This is a question that seems to be going the rounds more and more every day. It is a matter of peculiar interest—the finding by the black man of his station in such a time as this when a foreign nation is threatening the invasion of our shores. Let us admit the colored man has had his troubles, especially local troubles, but having had these troubles does not divorce him from his citizenship unless he has committed a felony and has been con-

Victory by a jury therefor and sentenced to the penitentiary or to penal servitude. But in the light of reason and refinement the race has not committed felony as a race and therefore are citizens. This is true the colored man will always be a citizen of the United States and whatever affects America affects the colored man. War on the American people is war on the colored man.

As citizens of America, we are inseparable from those things that go to make up American citizenship; generally speaking, that which is of interest to one citizen is of interest to the other.

White men and black men were born and reared together upon this continent and there are ties which bind them, politically and commercially, together in this country that can never be broken. We observe by a perusal of past history that this country has had no wars in which the black man did not share and do his part. In the war of the Revolution he shed the first blood. He was less able to shed blood than he is today and yet his blood was the first spilled on the Boston Commons. In the war of 1812, he bravely did his part, and in the civil war he bravely fought upon the fields of battle and stayed there until the victory was won.

Then in the Spanish-American War he won laurels there and rung victory from the hands of the enemies of this country and swung Old Glory to the breezes until the nation was satisfied. In all the warring factions in this country he has been in evidence and today he cannot escape the war clouds if he would. In fact our colored troops, the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry Regiments and 24th Infantry Regiments have been in the Army of the United States for more than forty years. So it can clearly be seen that the Negroes belong to a fighting race and every part of this country has found him ready to shed his blood and sweat with the dust. And now when a foreign nation has put its war dogs barking and howling upon the American track, the Negro will answer the challenge and help bring victory upon the side of right and justice and America will still be the home of the free and the land of the brave.

This is his country. He has never been a foe to America but has always done his part for this great government. Under adverse circumstances he has always stood for America. While we deplore war and all of its deplorable details and results, yet if fight we must, we feel it our duty to say to our people in this country that our interests and our country's interests are one. There is nothing common to the Americans that is not common to us, and when the American homes, lands and industries are protected, the homes and interests of the Negroes are protected; for the Negroes own millions of dollars' worth of property and whatever is done to protect the homes and industry of the white race will be done to protect the homes and property of the colored men.

I hate war, but when our government gives command to shoulder arms, I believe that the Negroes should not attempt to shield themselves from the task. This is a time when every American citizen should stand shoulder to shoulder and uphold the hands of our President who has worked hard to keep this country out of war. But a foreign power has shown the inevitable upon us. We are men just as others are. We have a country just as others have and our interests are the same as theirs. Therefore let's be loyal to our government, for some day soon or late right will be upon the throne and wrong with all its horrors will be dethroned and the people of this country will rest safely and securely, a condition that is the right of every citizen. There is no power that can erase our names from the citizenship of America. We will not be deceived by the wily tactics of any foreign nation. We will stand firm by and with our own government.
